Thomas Whaples

tom@eh.net – fennec@gmail.com – fennec@fennecfoxen.org – whapts3@wfu.edu
1784 Polo Road, Winston-Salem, NC, 27106   (336) 671-7172

IBM Employment

extremeblue Speed Team

Cluster Systems Management product   Poughkeepsie, summer 2006

IBM Cluster Systems Management – Install Team

> Development of new Linux installation method for IBM cluster management project
> Use of various open source tools, Linux, and Perl

extremeblue

CampuSphere project (ExtremeBlue for Clients)   Austin, summer 2005

IBM Solutions Experience Lab

> Servlet/JSP development for pervasive multimodal XHTML+Voice environment.

Other Employment

EH.Net   academic year, 2003-2007

> Economic History Association-sponsored website (approximately 5 million hits/year).
> Web site development, Linux systems administration. Support for academic users.
> Use of a variety of Internet technologies, programming languages, and open source tools.

Dorsett's, Inc.   summer 2004

> C/C++ development for legacy SCADA systems / intranet interface.

Wake Forest University Information Systems   summer 2001-2002

> Intranet development using Java servlets, XML, XSLT, Oracle, other technologies.

Education   as of winter 2006

Wake Forest University   Graduation: May 15 2007

> B.S. in Computer Science
> Minor in studio art, concentration in printmaking

GPA: 3.158 overall   (3.183 in computer science courses)

Skills

Programming languages, including:
>   C, C++, Java, JavaScript, Perl, Python

Internet technologies, including:
>   HTML, XHTML, CSS, JavaScript / DHTML, RSS, HTTP, Apache, CGI, PHP

Other technologies and topics, such as:
>   XML/XSL and related tools, SQL, relational database design, data mining